THE REAL LIFE
COMPANY

DEVELOPMENT PLAN

2007

In 2007 - 2008, the world met a financial crisis that affected all sectors of the economy. But Braun brothers were able to skillfully play this card as well. They did not start a company during the crisis, together with a small group of like-minded people they started bought up shares of companies that started to fall, but here no one expected such success, as many traders and brokers watched it and thought it would be their failure. But since 2011, the crisis began to gradually recede and in 2013 it was completely over.

2015

In 2015, the Braun brothers begin to think about opening a company and its trading platform. The name of the company was not long in coming and thus StockSons was born. In 2015, they begin to register the company. After such success during the financial crisis, the brothers gained fairly good fame and a great reputation. Every independent agent wanted to get a job at the brothers' brokerage firm.

2017

In 2017, the company signs contracts with stock exchanges and begins distributing traders and brokers to stock exchanges in Europe, America, Asia, including Australia. But since the company had not worked recently, it could not begin to enter the largest markets.

2018

In 2018, the company created a department for monitoring insurance risks. This department collaborates with leading insurance companies and specialists from around the world. Thus making the financial company safe, which provides a big breakthrough for the development and recognition of StockSons.

2019

In 2019, the first trading platform of StockSons.com, designed to optimize, expand the capabilities of both the company and each client, was launched. This means that all layers of society and absolutely any class could enter a confident future, and improve financial situation of their families for tens and hundreds of years in advance.

FOR INVESTORS

Commodity exchange

These plans make it possible to work through the constantly operating wholesale market of clear competition, in which, according to certain rules, transactions of sale are made for qualitatively homogeneous and easily interchangeable goods. International commodity exchanges, which are recognized centers of world tradeoff particular goods, perform the following main functions.

1. Daily pricing of goods. The results of trading on the exchange are instantly known throughout the world due to modern means of communication and information. Thus, exchange prices are an indicator of the ratio of supply and demand for a particular product at the moment in the world.
2. Hedging. This is a form of insurance of the price at which goods are due to be sold or bought in the future. Hedging has been one of Stock Exchange's first functions for more than a hundred years.
3. Guarantee of delivery of real goods bought or sold at the exchange is ensured by availability of a sufficient quantity of goods at the stock exchange's warehouses, as well as by creation of a special settlement system and adoption of legislation on exchanges and development of rules for transactions at the stock exchange, control over the activities of stock exchanges by government bodies.

FOR INVESTORS

Equity market

These plans allow you to earn income from a combination of economic relations regarding issue and circulation of securities between its participants.

Well-known indicators, mainly of economic nature, affect the value of securities. The data on these are in the public domain, are constantly published in the media and communicated through news channels. They are constantly available and everyone can study them.

Buying securities brings income not only from speculation. Their owner has an annual interest rate from the company in any case, regardless of their value.
